SPEAKER & COACH

MEDIA KIT

Hi. I'm Nigel!

SPEAKER & COACH

I have been a Certified Alcohol & Drug Counselor and Certified Prevention Specialist since 2000. Throughout my career, I have worked as a preschool teacher, counselor for federal prisoners on parole, parenting coach for families experiencing poverty and homelessness, and freelance illustrator. While working in Uganda studying wild chimpanzees, I taught forest conservation to young people in local villages. From 2003 through 2017, I taught prevention science, psychopharmacology, and media studies at the University of Oregon. I have also served as the National Youth Coordinator for Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) and am a certified Master Level Trainer for CADCA, where I develop curriculum and mentor trainers in prevention and public health.

My passion is helping young people build the equitable, just, and healthy society they deserve. I work with organizations and communities across the nation, sharing practical skills and strategies related to prevention, social justice, brain development, and youth leadership.

At home in Oregon, I enjoy spending time with my wife, our two young children, and our two extremely disobedient cats. Whenever I get the chance, I still listen to old punk rock music much louder than I probably should though these days, those chances are few and far between.
