SPEAKER & COACH

MEDIA KIT

Hi, I'm Kevin!

SPEAKER & COACH

With more than 25 years in law enforcement, I've learned that communication is one of the most powerful tools a leader can possess. Throughout my career, I've led teams in patrol, major crimes, and high-risk operations where clear communication, sound leadership, and resilience often determine the outcome.

As a graduate of the FBI National Academy and a certified instructor in crisis intervention and de-escalation, I've had the opportunity to train thousands of professionals across the country. My passion is helping leaders build trust, strengthen communication, and create high-performing teams that can thrive under pressure. I founded Trigon Training Group to provide practical, experience-based leadership training that organizations can put into action immediately. Using my patented communication framework and real-world stories from the field, I help audiences eliminate miscommunication, improve decision-making, and develop the confidence to lead with clarity and purpose.

Whether I'm speaking to law enforcement, corporate leaders, educators, or community organizations, my goal is to provide practical strategies that inspire lasting change. Every presentation is engaging, relatable, and designed to equip attendees with tools they can use to communicate more effectively, lead with confidence, and perform at their highest level.
