Two international experts bring this class to North Texas for the first time. Jermaine Galloway aka “the Tall Cop” from Texas and Deputy Dave Gomez from Idaho, are sharing a day of training on youth and school based drug and social media trends. As we navigate into the fall of 2023, and the increased drug issues we are seeing, it will be VERY important to keep up to date. Furthermore, you will have the opportunity to learn how drugs are being marketed online, other social media trends including hidden apps and investigations that schools and communities must understand.

INFORMATION ON YOUR INSTRUCTORS:

THE TALL COP

A Texan by choice, Officer Galloway worked in Idaho law enforcement for over 18 years.

To date, he has trained more than 750,000 people nationwide and internationally and is the national expert on youth drug trends.

As a national award winner, Jermaine devotes most of his time educating professionals and communities on drug & alcohol prevention and enforcement.

DEPUTY DAVID GOMEZ

Deputy David Gomez is at the forefront of educating parents and youth about the many dangers of social media, electronic devices, and the normalization of drug abuse online. As a school resource officer, he uses his expertise to stay current and come up with best practices to stay safe on social media and online.

You can find DeputyGomez educating others on YouTube, giving a Ted Talk, positively influencing youth in his hometown, and traveling the country helping youth (and parents) make better choices about digital devices and drugs and alcohol.
